MEET YOUR MOBILITY MANAGER!

My first four months as mobility manager has brought me many positive experiences. I've met with several transit providers and human service organizations to identify their needs, challenges they face, and ways that a mobility manager can support them. I also had the pleasure of helping many individuals in the region find transit services to accommodate their needs. The webpages we built are an accomplishment themselves, and will periodically be updated with more content in the future. All of this work was a team effort with SNHPC staff and mobility managers throughout the state. Working with this newfound perspective, I've set six goals for working with transit and human service providers, and to help improve the quality of life for all Granite Staters.

ADVOCATE Become an advocate for more funding and community transportation options, and for better treatment of individuals who are disadvantaged.

GET CREATIVE New Hampshire is at a disadvantage due to a lack of infrastructure and funding. Creativity and innovation are key.

BRING VARIETY Introduce a variety of services rather than duplicating existing ones.

IDENTIFY NEEDS Identify geographical "dead zones" for transportation and disadvantaged populations who lack access to transportation services.

RECRUIT Help transit services and volunteer driver programs address the shortage of drivers.

COORDINATE Facilitate coordination between services to increase awareness of services and improve efficiency of operation.

2022 LONDONDERRY SENIOR EXPO

Transportation Needs Survey Results

On Sunday, October 16th, the Londonderry Senior Resource Committee held their first annual Londonderry Senior Informational Expo at Londonderry High School. The event provided community information from the Police and Fire Departments, Town Staff, local businesses, and all other organizations that serve as a resource for older adults. The event had well over 100 attendees.

At the event, I surveyed attendees on their transportation needs. The purpose of the survey was to learn about transportation needs for individuals who are unable to drive themselves, and to learn about awareness and utilization of existing transportation services. 21 individuals participated in the survey. Provided in this article is a snapshot of their responses.
